Dr. H. Glenn Sumrall Appointed LeTourneau University Provost

Dr. H. Glenn Sumrall, LeTourneau University vice president for academic affairs, has been appointed to the additional responsibility of provost of the University, announced Dr. Alvin Austin, president.

As provost, Sumrall will serve not only as the chief academic officer of the University, but also as second-in-command to lead the University in the president's absence. The increased academic leadership role is of great importance, as it involves the overseeing of all instruction, the faculty and academic staff, the library, the Research and Development Institute, and the intercollegiate athletic program.

NEEDED: Missionary with Heart for Students

LeTourneau invites qualified applicants to apply to be the campus Missionary-in-Residence (M.I.R.). LeTourneau alumni are especially encouraged to apply, but the position is open to any qualified person. We are currently seeking someone to serve the campus beginning in August, 1997.

The Missionary-in-Residence program reinforces and promotes the missions orientation of LeTourneau University. The program is designed to actively involve a furloughed missionary in the academic and student services programs of the university. A missionary will be in residence for at least one year. The residence may be extended to two years if mutually beneficial to the missionary and LeTourneau. Financial support will continue through the missionary's own mission board and the university will provide housing and other specified benefits. For a complete description of this ministry position or more information, please contact the office Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs at LeTourneau University. You may also learn more about this and other open positions on LeTourneau's Internet site: www.letu.edu/.
